

Bree: Andrew, this is family time. I think we should all stay together to take advantage of this restaurant time, shouldn't we?

Andrew(stands up): Mom, we ain't got any video games at home! Why can't we just go over there?

Danielle: Calm down Andrew! (Andrew sits down) You could ask one for your birthday... (with a sarcastic tone) instead of your plastic guns, as always

Andrew: Alright. Mom, Dad, I want a playstation for my birthday... which is in a week

Rex(very calm and slowly): And me, I wanna divorce.

Bree: No Andrew, you will never have any of these video stations,... play video,... game video,... hum, well, whatever...

Rex, what did you just say??...

Danielle(very calm): He said he wants a divorce

Bree(surprised, amazed): Ha...

Andrew: Dad, you said « I wanna divorce », didn't you?

Rex: Well yes indeed, that's what I said.

Bree(getting angry): Are you kidding??... But why?

Rex(calm): Hum, well... I want to travel, I just can't live in this detergent commercial anymore!

Danielle: Oh, that's funny. I'd also like to travel round the world! I'd like to take a gap year so that I can...

Andrew: Yay! We could go to New York, eat burgers all day long and drink soda and...

Bree(interrupting Andrew): Hum, hum; could we please come back to this divorce affair?

Rex(calm and slowly): I wan't to go to India... especially in Bangalore

Andrew(not understanding Rex's choice): Why in Bangalore? And why in India?

Danielle: But you've already been to India when you had a job at Walmart, haven't you?

Rex: You're right , they've outsourced part of their production to India and I've had to go there.
That's how I discovered Bangalore, a very nice city!

Danielle: What about my gap year?

Andrew: Stop joking, Dany, you're way too jittery to face Africa on your own

Bree: Haven't you got any feelings? We're talking about something important! A divorce!

Danielle: Mom, we all love you much but...

Bree(interrupting Danielle): But?

Danielle: But you're too perfectionist

Rex(quickly after Danielle): Selfish

Andrew(quickly after Rex): Snobbish. We want a true mother with feelings, who makes mistakes as a « normal » person!

Bree(desperate): I do my best, I do everything I can for you. Thanks to me, you eat good cuisine, you're clothes are always clean, your rooms tidy and...

Rex(to the children): Well kids, she's obviously never gonna understand us...

(Bree, angry, quits the scene)

Rex(hesitating): Pass the pepper?
